Grand Knight's Report

By Mark Vampola, Grand Knight

Recently, while pulling my keys out of my pocket, an associate at work questioned me on the “beads” that I was carrying in my pocket which were tangled with my keys. As I untangled my Rosary from my keys, I explained to him that it was my Rosary. He commented that it was “interesting” that I would pray “to” the Rosary. Three years ago when I became a Knight, I promised that I would carry my Rosary with me every day (and I usually do) and that I would pray it as often as I could, (which is less often than I should.) Many of us are so busy with the activities that fill our lives that we seldom get 15-30 minutes of peace and quiet to ourselves to pray a decade or more. This is all the more reason to carry our Rosary with us. Throughout the day with all the chores, activities, and tasks, there is that constant reminder that is always there to give us a moment's recollection of how important we are to Christ, such that he willingly died for us. Those moments of reflection, every time I put my hands into my pocket, reach for my keys, or fumble for some change, I am reminded about how much I am loved and to use that as an example of how to lead my life. # Pray the Rosary

Program Director's Report
By Ed Barrier, Deputy Grand Knight

Dear Brother Knights,

I am happy to report that our last Fish Fry had roughly 239 people as counted by Brother Paul Curzan. Once again, we had another record turnout. Brother Paul and his wife Evelina did a good job running the Fish Fry while our Fish Fry Chairman, Brother Mike Donovan, was away on vacation. Once again, our Fish Fry Team (Chefs, food servers, and cleanup crew) managed to feed everybody with enough food to spare.

We also have a First Degree Installation coming up in a couple of weeks. Once again, our council needs new members! Our council is behind in our membership goals for this year. Other councils, such as Council 1684 in Santa Barbara and Santicoy Council, have managed to meet their recruitment goals for this Columbian year. If they can do it in these tough economic times, we can do it too. If you know somebody that is a practicing Catholic gentleman, ask him to consider joining the Knights of Columbus Council 5300.

APRIL DINNER MEETING

The April Dinner meeting will be held on April 19th with a “social hour” beginning at 6:30 pm and dinner served at a little past 7:00 pm. Those celebrating birthdays in March and April will be honored with a free dinner and recognition. The menu for the evening will be hamburgers with all the trimmings. Mark your calendar and come and join us.

NOTE FROM FR. RICHARD

I received an e-mail from Fr. Richard Kayizzi of Uganda. For those who are unfamiliar with Fr. Richard, he is one of our brother Sir Knights that was assigned at St. Raphael’s a few years ago as part of his Seminary training. When he returned to Uganda, Council 5300 and our Assembly have been supporting him in various ways in his Ugandan ministry. Money was sent to purchase bicycles for use by his catechists to bring communion to the villages in the bush. Chalices, received by various family members when one of our Sir Knights has passed on to their Eternal Reward, have been donated to Fr. Richard. Fr. Richard mentioned that the Chalice for SK Jesse Garcia is now being used by Fr. Kizito in his daily Masses. He also sends his condolences over the passing of SK Bill McLafferty.

PASSING OF MSR. HENRY VAN SON

Msgr Henry Van Son passed to his reward on Friday March 26, 2010. His Family has requested the Color Corps at both the Rosary and Funeral. He was a Fourth Degree member since 1971, a Knight of Columbus since 1949, and served as Faithful Friar of Junipero Serra Assembly for many years. He was eighty six years old.

The Schedule for the Rosary and the Funeral are:

April 5, 2010

Monday 7 PM - Rosary Our Lady of Mt. Carmel.

April 6, 2010

Tuesday 11AM - Funeral St. Raphael’s Church.

May his soul rest in peace and the Perpetual Light shine on him.

KEEP IN YOUR PRAYERS

SK Larry Stigney as he continues with a regime of chemotherapy, SK Bobby Sanchez for his continuing recovery, SK Steve Schlesselmann for his continuing recovery, SK Jim Wasil, SK Val Taylor, SK Frank Mackey, Judy Klinge, the wife of SK Brian Klinge, Nancy Herrera, widow of PGK/PFN Pablo Herrera, Ray and Lupe Villa, Socorro Sieckmann, brother-in-law and sisters-in-law to SK Felix Sanchez, Msg. Henry Van Son, SK Jacques Benoit’s mother who is suffering from cancer.

Renew What’s Important to You

Spring is a time for renewal. Trees and plants will soon be blooming, and many animals will shake off the cold and become active again. As the winter doldrums end, you’ll be ready to get outside with your family, too, and be part of this renewal.

It is also a perfect opportunity to take a few moments to consider your goals and what’s important to you and your loved ones. Are you planning to welcome a new child or sending one to college? Are you looking forward to retirement? Will you have enough money to accomplish these goals? What would happen if something happened to you?

Whether or not you have life insurance with the Order, I’ll be happy to meet with you and examine how you can meet your needs and goals. If you’ve had any life changes since you last bought a policy (new home, new child, new job, etc.), chances are your life insurance needs to be updated. Maybe an annuity or long-term care plan appeals to your situation. Whatever the case, I’ll work with you to make sure you have the coverage you need at a price you can afford.

When we meet, you’ll discover that the time we spend together will be a commitment to your future and your family’s well-being. Let’s get together soon to renew your financial goals with the stable backing of the Knights of Columbus.

Call me – let’s talk.

To contact me with regards to any of your K of C insurance needs, please email me at dlfarebrother@aol.com or call me at either of the numbers listed below. I look forward to hearing from you.

Although this does not take the place of prayer, it is a very consistent and powerful reminder of who I am and what Jesus means to me. After the few minutes that we talked, I think he understood that they weren’t just a “String of Beads”. What does your Rosary mean to you and is its meaning consistent with where it is kept? If not, figure out a good place to keep it so that it does.

Over the next several months, as we bring this Columbian year to a close, we have many activities that are either on the Calendar, in the planning process, or in progress. Our annual Lenten Fish Fry’s, organized and lead by Brother Mike Donovan and his wife Mirtha, have been enjoyed by so many. We provide a tremendous service to our church community by offering this great seasonal favorite a such a low price! We are also moving forward with our second annual Golf Tournament, headed up by Brothers Tim Hogan and Jack Turney. Several other Knights will be assisting them to get this big project organized. Remote-Call Bingo is still in the phase of seeing if it is a feasible event the Knights can organize, with the assistance of volunteers from several other Parish organizations. Mother’s Day and Father’s Day will be here real soon and the 4th Degree Color Corps has got a busy schedule already lined up.

The Parish Council will be holding elections soon, as there will be several vacancies at the end of June. I strongly encourage our Brother nights to be a part of this so that we are better able to help out Church and our Church Community. For additional details, speak with Brothers Brian Klinge or Sam Alfano.

Grand Knight’s Challenge

This year we are holding our Second Annual St Raphael Golf Tournament, formally called the Bill McLafferty Memorial Golf Tournament. The funds for this provide our Church and its programs with some added funding. The money raised from this will come from not only folks participating in the Golfing, but the Raffle also. Additionally, we are trying to get $100 sponsorships for each of the 18 holes.

Anyone that knows me, knows that I don’t golf, that’s why I have elected to help with preparation of the meal following. Additionally, as Grand Knight, I will also sponsor a hole in the name of Bill McLafferty. My challenge now goes to all the other past Grand Knights, who don’t plan on golfing in this tournament. Consider sponsoring a hole, or partnering up with another or a few Past Grand Knights to sponsor a hole and know in your heart that you did participate in a good fun event!

Thanks,
GK Mark Vampola

Pro-Life Students Make Presence Felt at the U.N. Women's Conference

*BY KIRSTEN EVANS, REGISTER
CORRESPONDENT 03/27/2010*

New York — Perched on a crooked row of folding chairs in the basement of a Manhattan parish sit 21-year-old Tyler Ament and 12 of his close friends. With their backpacks strewn on the floor, they listen attentively, nodding intently, as a clean cut New York lawyer leans across a narrow podium and delivers a pop course on the do's and don'ts of diplomacy in a high-profile world.

A senior at Christendom College in Virginia, Tyler and his classmates have decided to spend their spring break in New York City — lobbying at the United Nations.

From March 1-12, the U.N. was the site of Beijing +15: The 54th Commission on the Status of Women. Beijing +15 was one of a series of international U.N. conferences dedicated to the global needs of women in the areas of education, health care, poverty eradication, and political and legal rights.

While an effective platform for advancing much needed development, the “Beijing” conferences have been controversial. Some seek to manipulate the conferences as a vehicle for establishing sweeping global access to abortion and a “universal human right” to abortion, under the auspices of legitimate maternal-child health care.

The Christendom students were invited to participate in the conference through the Edmund Burke Fellowship, an annual program that offers youth the opportunity to lobby at the U.N. during their spring break. The New York-based Catholic Family and Human Rights Institute (C-Fam), a non-governmental organization dedicated to monitoring and influencing the social policy debate at the United Nations and other international institutions, sponsors the Fellowship. College and law students from institutions around the country attend.

Terence McKeegan, vice president and senior counsel for C-Fam, coached the students about to become lobbyists. “As you start this week you need to start thinking of yourselves as missionaries,” McKeegan told them. “You have come to the U.N., and this is the greatest mission territory on earth.”

This is Tyler's second year as a Burke Fellow. Commenting on his expectations for the week he said, “Last year I came to the U.N. and was surprised that I was able to make a difference through my work with one of the delegates. This year I hope to do the same.”

When asked what delegates the fellows found most open, Tyler responded, “The African delegates and the Latin American delegates are very open. They are grateful to find young people encouraging them to look for options besides abortion to address the problems of maternal and child health in their countries. In the face of pressure from bigger countries, sometimes they feel they have no choice. They are looking for encouragement.”

Dennis Toscano, a philosophy major at Christendom, is from Colombia and has used his Latin American heritage and linguistic skills to gain the ear of delegates from the region, meeting with some of them one-on-one to discuss the questions of women's health, human life, and public policy. “If we were not here,” he said, “no one would be. It is a privilege to represent pro-life people from around the world.”

Vast Majority are Pro-Life

But the Edmund Burke Fellows were not alone. Pockets of other well-dressed, eager youth paced the halls, pursuing delegates from faraway places to talk about policies being proposed on the U.N. floor. The most striking thing about these youth? The vast majority was pro-life.

“I came to the U.N. to tell my personal story,” beamed Hannah Shine, a peppy, articulate 17-year-old from Temple, Texas. “I was born with a congenital disease, and the doctors recommended that my mother abort me,” she offered with confidence. “Here I am today, happy to be alive, and I have come to the U.N. to tell the world that abortion is not the answer to disease.”

Hannah was part of a larger group of young women from Texas, all boasting bright pink “Purity is Power” buttons on their lapels, who came to accompany the women of the pro-life NGO Endeavor Forum in their lobbying efforts at the U.N.

“Lots of countries think that Americans are pro-abortion,” pipes in 16-year-old Lindsey Emmons, Hannah's friend. "We are here to show the world that we are not."

But not all of the pro-life presence at Beijing +15 conference were youth. Seasoned pro-life activists from around the globe converged on the U.N.

Molly White is the founder and director of Women for Life International, a Texas-based NGO dedicated to educating women on life issues and aiding women in an unwanted pregnancy. Her own life story is relevant. Molly is also a member of Conceived in Rape, a network of people conceived in violence. Eight men and women from the Network came to the U.N. to share their stories.

"A child conceived in rape is nameless and faceless, and it is easy to disregard the life of someone nameless and faceless," White told the Register. "We are here to put a name and face on the unborn, and through our own personal stories, spread the message that all human life deserves protection."

Jeanne Monahan, director of the Center for Human Dignity at the Family Research Council, attended previous U.N. women's conferences. "It is amazing to see the pro-life presence at this conference," she said. "We are much more organized than we were five years ago. When you walk through the halls the pro-life lobby is strongly felt."

On the U.N. floor, the delegations of Iran, Qatar, Saint Lucia and Syria hosted a panel discussion titled "Recognizing the Critical Role of Mothers in Society."

Alongside their delegates sat guest panelists: Dr. Theresa Okafor, director of the Foundation for African Cultural Heritage; Christine de Vollmer, president of the Latin American Alliance for the Family; Sharon Slater, president of Family Watch International; and Alveda King, civil rights advocate and niece of Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr.

"Mothers shape the future," King exhorted the packed assembly. "Let us assure that women who are mothers are not harmed by our programs. Motherhood begins the moment she is pregnant. Let us work together to assure that pregnant women and their sons and daughters survive pregnancy. Let us treat our future with reverence and respect."

Conflicting Views

Not everyone was in agreement. Volumes of literature and hundreds of side-sessions were available for delegates by organizations promoting global expansion of abortion rights.

A representative of Catholics for Choice, in one of the side sessions, addressed a group of pro-life youth, saying, "We are also here to fight for a right to life — the lives of women. Life deserves protection, but the life of a woman should be given priority over the life of a fetus. The right to life of women is more important. Are we mistaken by fighting for a woman's right to her own life?"

As the conference came to a close the pro-life lobbyists generally felt good about their impact.

"In the last days of the conference several delegates from the developing world spoke out strongly in defense of life, carefully addressing terms that could be used to shelter a pro-abortion agenda. Our big fear was that universal human right to abortion would be negotiated into the documents. Deliberation seemed to be effectively contained to smaller points of policy," said one pro-life lobbyist.

Still, many pro-life delegates admitted being nervous that the final language surrounding maternal mortality will include a mandate to globally expand abortion programming. The concluding document of the Beijing +15 session will not be made public until sometime in the coming weeks.

Back at the Edmund Burke Fellows' base camp, students packed up their things to head back to campus. Dennis Toscano was asked about the most memorable moment of his week.

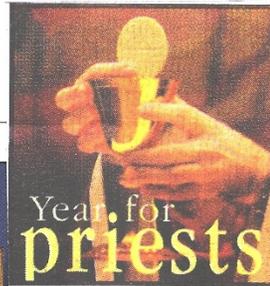

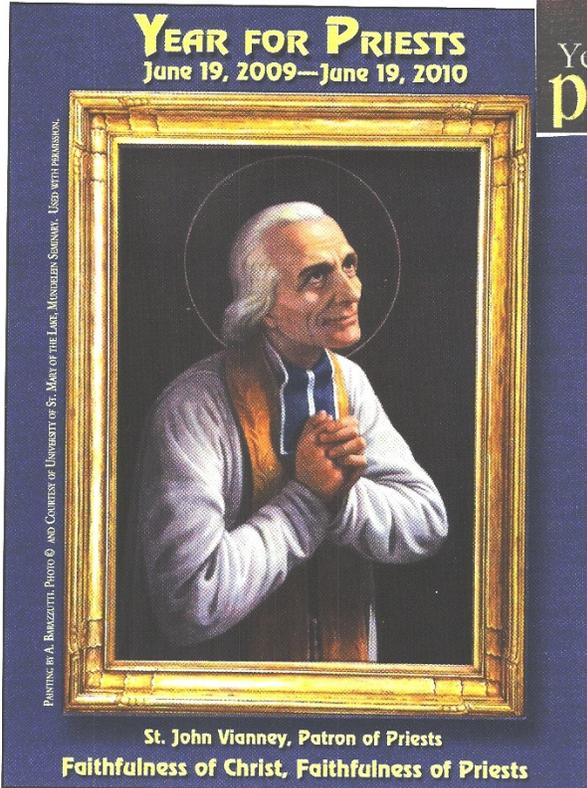

"Meeting the Holy See's delegation," was his answer. "It is not the voice of a nation; it is the voice of the Church, which spans all nations. Many people did not agree with the Holy See, but when the Holy See spoke you could hear a pin drop. That is the voice of a moral leader. People knew they needed to listen."

Then he swiped his backpack up off the floor, and headed for the door. Mission accomplished.

Prayer for Priests

O my Jesus, I beg You on behalf of the whole Church: Grant it love and the light of Your Spirit, and give power to the words of priests so that hardened hearts might be brought to repentance and return to You, O Lord.

Lord, give us holy priests; You Yourself maintain them in holiness. O Divine and Great High Priest, may the power of your mercy accompany them everywhere and protect them from the devil's traps and snares which are continually being set for the souls of priests. May the power of Your mercy, O Lord, shatter and bring to naught all that might tarnish the sanctity of priests, for You can do all things. AMEN.

A PRAYER FOR OUR PRIESTS

As the Church celebrates the
YEAR FOR PRIESTS
June 19, 2009 through June 19, 2010

Almighty God, in your love you bless your Church with priests,
a sign of your faithfulness to your people.

May our prayerful encouragement,
during this year and years to come,
help them remain faithful to the calling they have received from you.

As they tend your flock,
grant them a caring heart.
In them may we know the voice of Christ,
our Good Shepherd, who lives and reigns with you and the Holy Spirit, one God forever and ever. Amen.

Reason 1 The presence of sin can easily lead to depression and anxiety.

Reason 2 You shower to show respect for those around you. Cleansing your soul makes you better to be around, too!

Step 1 Examine your conscience ... using the Ten Commandments or an available guide.

Reason 3 Mortal sin, unconfessed, "causes exclusion from Christ's Kingdom and the eternal death of hell, for our freedom has the power to make choices forever, with no turning back" (Catechism, No. 1861).

Reason 4 As they leave the confessional, people smile a smile of freedom.

Step 2 You have the choice of facing the priest (if he offers the option) or speaking through a screen.

Confession Definition

"For a sin to be mortal, three conditions must together be met: "Mortal sin is sin whose object is grave matter and which is also committed with full knowledge and deliberate consent" (Catechism of the Catholic Church, No. 1857).

Reason 5 Because love means having to say you are sorry to the one you love.

Step 3 There are no special words you need to say. Greet the priest, and tell him how long it has been since your last confession. If it's been a while, he'll help you.

Reason 6 You will grow in humility, sincerity and self-knowledge.

Reason 7 Blessed Mother Teresa went. Frequently.

Reason 8 Hoping to convert on your deathbed? That's not very likely. Most likely, you will die as you lived.

Reason 9 It is itself a serious sin to go to Communion if you have serious sin on your soul and have not asked for forgiveness in confession.

Step 4 Be concise, clear, complete and contrite. You have to confess mortal sins and give a sense of how often. Don't be embarrassed. You're not going to tell the priest anything he hasn't already heard.

How (and Why) to Return to Confession

Concerns & Answers

Can't I talk to God directly, not a priest, to get forgiveness?

Not according to the Bible. Read John 20:21-23; 2 Corinthians 2:10; and 2 Corinthians 5:18.

If God knows everything we do, then how come we have to go to confession?

You may know your younger brother broke your CD player, but wouldn't it be aggravating if he knew you knew, but still didn't say, "I'm sorry?"

Doesn't God forgive no matter what?

If we think of sin as merely breaking rules, it is hard to understand why God can't just "look the other way." But sin is real; it hurts us and makes us distant from him — and unable to enter heaven. We can only be restored if we confess.

Confession just gives people the idea that it's all right to sin as long as you're sorry later.

If a man is confessing drunkenness while he has plans with his buddies to go barhopping and get drunk again the coming weekend, he can't be forgiven. He has to have decided to stop. Confession stops sins; it doesn't start them.

Step 5 The priest won't scold you. In fact, if you've had a tough confession, he'll show you extra care.

Your penance won't be harsh.

Reason 10 Don't be scared to death of confession. Be scared of death without confession.

Grave Matter What constitutes "grave matter"? Some common sins: Missing Sunday Mass, any sex outside marriage (including pornography and masturbation), serious theft, abortion and contraception, defamation of character, purposely getting drunk.

Step 6 Then you'll make an act of contrition. Look in a prayer book for a longer one, or simply say: "Jesus, I am truly sorry for my sins and, with your grace, I will try to sin no more."

Step 7 Do your penance right away, before leaving the church if possible.

Reason 11 Be strong. Face your sins, deal with them and move on.

Step 8 Christ has forgiven and forgotten your sins, and the angels and saints are having a party to celebrate.

Reason 12 Make sure there are no unpleasant surprises at your particular judgment or at the Final Judgment.

Reason 13 The priest will listen to your sins and will never tell a soul on pain of losing his soul. Priests even learn to forget what they hear.
